WATER MAINS ARE EXTENDED TO SERVE HILL STREETS

Board of Public Works Holds Special Meeting and Acts on Matters Relating to the Water System—New School in West Hancock and Properties on Oak and Corey Streets Now Connected.

A special meeting of the Hancock board of public works was held yesterday afternoon in the office of the city clerk, at which the business consisted mainly of the consideration of matters pertaining to the water system. It having been reported that a number of water meters were not working correctly, it was decided to let those said to be defective run for another month to give them a thorough test, and then if they are found to be out of order they will be replaced.

The water mains laid in west Hancock and connecting with the pump installed last summer at the wells on the city tract where the new water works are to be located are now in shape to serve a large section of the district. Announcement is made that the new school can be connected with the mains on Elevation street, and residents on that street between Ingot and Oak, can also make connections now at any time. The mains are also ready for service on Ingot street, between Fourth and Elevation.

The sinking of the wells on the city tract has been discontinued for the season, but pipes are being sunk and connected to prevent the frost from doing any damage.

W. Frank James, in his capacity as a private citizen, made an application to the board for permission to put in a private line from the Ingot street main to some properties belonging to him in block 6. Anthony's addition. Mr. James will stand the expense of this line, although properly it is work that the city should do. The application was noted upon favorably, as was also that of Lakso & Company asking for the extension of the water mains to their properties in west Hancock. This work will be done by J. J. Byers & Company, who had the contract for laying the mains through the west Hancock streets in connection with the water system extension the past summer.

The contract between Anderson & Son of Houghton and the city of Hancock for the laying of about 150,000 feet of sidewalk next summer at a cost of $21,000, was recently signed and work will be commenced early in the spring. The walks will be built on grades established by the city engineer and adopted by the council.

JURY SAYS APOPLEXY.

Inquest Into Death of Jacob Juntunen Held Yesterday Afternoon.

The inquest into the death of Jacob Juntunen of the Arcadian, who died suddenly at his home last Friday evening, took place yesterday afternoon in the office of Justice Oliver, with the result that a verdict of death from apoplexy was rendered. The finding of the jury was based upon the testimony of County Physician Jackson, who made a postmortem examination of the stomach of Juntunen Saturday morning. It was at first supposed that Juntunen had committed suicide by drinking the contents of a bottle of a preparation for skin trouble, as he was found on the floor of his bedroom shortly after starting to apply the lotion to his arms. The jury comprised John Tibor, C. F. Rogers, A. L. Levy, Ed Foley, James Kelly and John McCarthy.

IN JUSTICE COURTS.

Katy Kutla was arraigned before Justice Puntilla yesterday afternoon on a charge of being a disorderly person. She pleaded not guilty and was placed under $500 bonds to appear for a hearing next Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Lacking the amount of the bond she was taken to jail to spend the time until then. This is Katy's fifth arrest in a short time, she having appeared in January before Justice Brand, in March before Justice Croza, in June and October before Justice Oliver, and now before Justice Puntilla.

Matt Maki was arrested yesterday on complaint of Matt Pello charged with having struck the latter with a beer glass in the saloon of Matt Pello, slitting Pello's nose and making a bad wound. Maki was arraigned yesterday afternoon before Justice Oliver and was fined $25 and costs, or ninety days in jail. He took the latter, being unable to liquidate the amount assessed.

THANKSGIVING HOLIDAY
RATES ARE ANNOUNCED

The Duluth, South Shore and Atlantic railroad is announcing special holiday rates for the Thanksgiving season, to points on the Mineral Range and South Shore and connecting lines. A rate of a fare and a third will be in effect beginning Tuesday, November 3, with tickets on sale up to and including Thursday, November 3, with return limit good until November 27. On account of the fact that most of the copper country schools will hold sessions on the Friday after Thanksgiving day, a number of the teachers and others who usually leave for their homes to spend the holiday will remain in the city this year. The Hancock schools and also those of Ripley will close Wednesday, giving a four-day Thanksgiving holiday, reopening on the 27th.

A number of other excursion rates are announced for the next couple of weeks, including special fares to Ishpeming and to Chicago and return. The former is on account of the big meeting of the Knights and Ladies of Kaleva to be held on November 27 at Ishpeming, which will be attended by large delegations from the lodges of the order in Hancock and other towns of the copper country. The fare for the round trip is a fare and a third, good going on any regular train on Saturday, November 27, and returning not later than train No. 7, leaving Marquette at 11:30 p.m., November 29. An opportunity to spend several days in Chicago at a low rate of fare is offered in connection with the holding at Chicago of the National Live Stock Exhibition, the United States Land and Irrigation Congress, and the National Farm Land Exposition. The round trip fare from Hancock to Chicago and return for these events will be $14.45, at which rate tickets will be on sale November 15, 20, 28, 29 and 30, and December 1, 5 and 6, with return limit good until December 13.

The itinerary of "The Alaskan" company, which plays here on Wednesday and Thursday evenings, has been received by Agent W. I. McMaster, at the Lakeview station of the South Shore. The company plays at Marquette on Tuesday, November 23, and then comes to Hancock, remaining two nights. The show does not play at Calumet, but after appearing here goes to Ishpeming for one night's engagement. The company carries fifty people and requires two large baggage cars for its equipment.

A TURKEY HUNT.

Gobbler Leads a Merry Chase Over House-tops Before Caught.

The unusual sight of a turkey hunt in the streets of Hancock was the spectacle presented shortly after noon yesterday on Quincy street. A number of places in the city have secured a quantity of live turkeys to be raffled off for Thanksgiving and while some of the birds were being placed in an enclosure of Harry James' place in the Clifford building, one of them got away and flew to the roof of a shed adjoining. A crowd soon gathered and the turkey was pelted with snow to dislodge it. Thereupon Mr. Gallopavo Americenensis measured off the distance to the eaves of a dwelling several feet away and taking flight landed neatly upon the edge of the roof, from where it climbed to the peak and strutted along to the chimney, where it defied its pursuers. Stones and snowballs were of no avail to bring it down and finally an air gun was secured and with this the bird was felled until it was compelled to fly to the ground, where after a brief chase, it was apprehended and safely secured.

NO THANKSGIVING DANCE.

For the first time in many years there will be no public dance in Hancock on Thanksgiving eve, none of the various local organizations having arranged one for this date. The Ancient Order of Hibernians have in the past usually given their annual dance on this date, but on account of the fact that of late years these events have not been financially successful, a deficit resulting from each one instead of a surplus, it was decided not to hold one this year. There will be other amusements provided, however, in the presentation of "The Alaskan" at the Kerredge theatre, and the venison supper to be given tomorrow night by the Elks.

Thomas C. Trueblood will give a recital on Friday night at the Kerredge theatre in the Star Entertainment course, on the subject of the story of "Ingomar, the Barbarian," a well known play which once enjoyed a wide popularity.

THOUGHT IT A GHOST.

Woman in White Gives Hancock Man a Bad Scare at Night.

There is in Hancock a man, who, though old enough to have voted twice for Bryan, has so diminutive a stature that one not seeing his face might take him for a small child in long pants. He was returning to his home one of the streets facing the lake front in West Hancock a few nights ago and had to pass the depot of the Mineral Range railroad to make a short cut. As he approached the depot platform he saw something white there. It looked like a ghost to him. He began to tremble all over and tried to hurry past the terrifying object, keeping his eye on it all the time. Suddenly it made a slight move and shivered. With a loud yell the little fellow started to run up the track, when he caught his foot in a rail and fell. The "ghost" assumed an erect position and began to move toward the prostrate man, who looking around and seeing the thing in white coming nearer and nearer began to shout lustily for help. Finally a voice close beside him asked, "Did I frighten you, little boy? It didn't sound like the voice of a disembodied spirit and the frightened one summoned courage enough to get up and take notice. The "ghost" turned out to be a lady in a light colored dress who had been waiting at the depot for the 11 o'clock South Shore train.

SIX HUNDRED DOLLARS RAISED FOR RIPLEY FIRE DEPARTMENT

Another meeting was held at the Ripley school house last evening for the furtherance of the project of providing Ripley with fire protection. There was a good attendance, somewhat larger than at the initial meeting held a week ago, and the prospects are regarded as very favorable for the carrying out of the plans that have been outlined.

A report was received from the soliciting committee, showing that a total sum of six hundred dollars has been subscribed by residents of the community. Of this amount only $25 is in cash, but the others have promised to pay as soon as it is evident that the work is to be actually carried out and bids called for, for the laying of mains, erecting hydrants, etc.

The soliciting committee appointed at the first meeting, with Charles Ongie as president and Lester Chynoweth as secretary will continue its canvass among the residents, business firms and manufacturing plants to secure more subscriptions, and another meeting will be held two weeks from last night.

Manager John Hick of the Portage Coal and Dock company was at his office this morning for the first time since his recent illness with appendicitis, with which he was attacked while on a business trip to Marquette two weeks ago.

The rise in the quotations on Hancock Consolidated yesterday when the stock went up five points, was the source of great rejoicing to many Hancock residents, who will be greatly benefited financially by the rise. The opinion is expressed that Hancock stock will go higher yet. The greatest faith is felt in the future of the mine, and its prosperity means much for the upbuilding and development of this city.

A game has been arranged to be played on Wednesday night in Germania hall between the Quincy team and the Lake Linden nine.

Tactics.

So far as history gives us any information on the subject, the father of "tactics" in the military sense, was the great Theban general, Epaminondas, who, at the famous battle of Leuctra, B. C. 371, fought between the Thebans and Spartans, for the first time introduced the scientific mode of fighting. Prior to that time the universal rule was for the opposing armies to face each other and fight it out by sheer brute force and bulldog tenacity, without any particular regard for scientific principles.

Addition to Gypsy Lore.

According to a writer in the Journal of the Gypsy Lore Society, it was not in 1417 but in 1414 that Gypsies made their first appearance in western Europe.

Prescription enables him to speak of this remedy with confidence. It is a gentle, soothing wash with the mild oil of wintergreen as a base. All the cures seem to be permanent, at any rate, a trial bottle at 25 cents will take away the itch at once—instantly. We are sure of this.

TORCH LAKE NEWS

TRAP ROCK VALLEY GRANGE
HOLDS MEETING TOMORROW

The regular semi-monthly meeting of the Trap Rock Valley grange of Lake Linden will meet tomorrow afternoon in the Hermann Son's hall on Hecla street. All members of the organization are requested to be in attendance. The meetings in the future will be held in the afternoons instead of evenings, the change being considered more advantageous to the members some of whom are compelled to drive many miles to the sessions.

Master J. R. Frank states that the meetings are very helpful to those who attend, and he fails to see why the membership is not larger than it is. To date there are about thirty in good standing. There is a sufficient number of eligible persons here to swell the membership to 200 if they would all take interest in the grange.

There are many advantages to be derived from membership in the grange. One of them is that through the co-operation of the grange they can secure grain, feeds, etc., at cost price.

The new officers will be elected at the meeting to be held the latter part of December, and those who are at the head of the grange at the present time, before the end of the year they will be able to increase the membership and make it at least half a hundred.

MORE DEER ARRIVE.

Local Hunters Bag Three Good Specimens of Fleetfooted Animals.

John and Ernest Peck and H. J. Taylor have returned from a week spent in the woods in the vicinity of Trout creek. Each shot one deer. The credit for killing the largest deer so far this fall goes to John Peck of Hubbard. He shot a fine large buck which tipped the scales at exactly 222 pounds, and is claimed to be the largest brought here this year. Ernest Peck and Mr. Taylor each shot a doe.

Several other hunters left for the woods yesterday as they are anxious to secure at least one animal before the season closes. John Herman and Nick Kaiser, the latter from Calumet, will leave Wednesday for Rabbit Bay where they expect to get at least one deer each. Others propose leaving this week.
